FAQ

What is a broadside? A broadside is usually a public notice or advertisement printed on one sheet of paper can feature text or image or both (think public notice, wanted poster, gig poster, circus announcement)

What is the theme? Your choice, it could be political, humorous, musical, engaging, nonsensical.

What medium? Anything as long as it's printed - letterpress, woodcut, silkscreen, litho, linoleum, stencil, (we dare you to try monoprinting and survive round one) and it's got to be on paper.

What size: maximum size 18 x 24 (no minimum)

How do I enter? Send one poster/print/broadside featuring text, image or both to Space 1026

How much does it cost to enter? Nothing, but the few stamps it'll cost you to mail it to us.

Will I get my print back? Nope - winner takes all - that's the beauty of prints (print more, don't gripe)

What's the prize? Winner takes all - that's right darling, the declared winner gets 'em all...in one fat package delivered by good old U.S. mail.

What is space 1026? A gallery and artist collective in Philadelphia - visit us at: www.space1026.com

How is the winner decided? This BROADSIDE BATTLE is a feature of an upcoming exhibition at Space 1026 in October about collaborative printmaking called Pumping Kill Mud Down the Drill Pipe. The BROADSIDE BATTLE will rage throughout the exhibition, and a team of judges will determine the winner based on a series of elimination rounds. And remember, this is all in good fun...

When are the submissions due? All broadsides must arrive at the gallery on or before October 1 by 5 pm

DONT BE LATE or you'll be out.

How will I know which broadside won? We will post the images of the submitted broadsides on our website at www.space1026.com - hey we might even have some viewers choice awards! Keep checking for updates. The winner will be featured on our website.

Send your broadside submissions to
